An overnight in Nairobi allows you to experience the exceptional Kenyan hospitality and comfort of the Four Points by Sheraton Nairobi Airport Hotel, situated conveniently at the airport, before the start of the safari adventure of a lifetime.

High above Kenya's Maasai Mara where some of the most romantic scenes from Out of Africa were filmed, sits Angama Mara comprising of two separate and intimate camps, each encompassing 15 tented suites. Angama Mara offers heart stopping views as far as the eye can see. The lodge boasts outstanding game viewing 12 months of the year, with private access to the world-renowned Maasai Mara reserve below.

Highlights of this trip include:

The first glimpse of the lodge as guests come into land at the lodge's private airfield, after a short 5-minute drive to the lodge (or a 15-minute stroll for those who might feel like stretching their legs) the staff awaits with a warm Kenyan welcome and lunch is served.

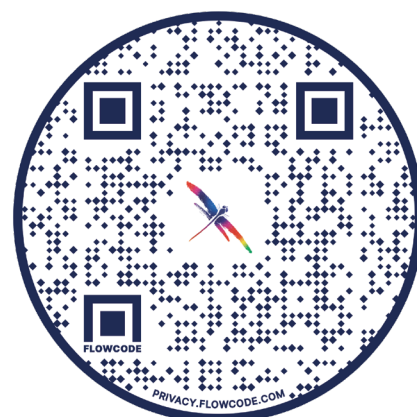

Morning and afternoon game drives included, the Maasai Mara Reserve is home to all of Africa's great mammals and more than 450 bird species, it is a life-changing experience to go on safari in one of Africa's most iconic reserves. That's not to mention the annual spectacle of two million wildebeest, zebra and Thomson's gazelle braving the dramatic crossings of the Mara River as they make their way into the Mara Triangle.

There are many moments during a guest's stay when they can interact with the Maasai people, both at Angama Mara and in a neighbouring village. In and around the lodge, guests will spend time with Maasai staff, as the majority of the people who work here come from local communities.

Enjoy meals made from the finest ingredients Kenya has to offer: beautiful vegetables from the highlands, tropical fruits a-plenty from the coast, cheese from a renowned supplier just outside Nairobi, prawns from Malindi, freshwater fish from Lake Victoria and beef from the north.

On the final evening, Maasai warriors perform in the lodge's traditional brush-packed boma and here, guests are able to not only photograph this time-honoured celebration of song and dance, but can also participate should they wish.
