The main attraction of a visit to Rwanda is the opportunity to see majestic mountain gorillas, in their natural habitat - a worthy bucketlist experience.

Sabyinyo Silverback Lodge, which is operated by The Governors' Camp Collection, is positioned on the foothills of the breathtaking Virunga mountain range only a few minutes away from the headquarters of the Volcanoes National Park. The 9 comfortable cottages overlook lush gardens and is an ideal base for Gorilla Trekking.

What to expect from your gorilla trekking experience:

The number one activity and highlight in Rwanda is the Mountain Gorilla trekking.

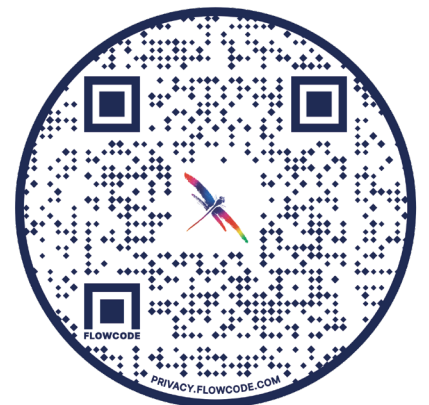

There are only 12 habituated troops in the Volcanoes National Park in Rwanda, and a limited amount of permits are issued daily for guests to experience this life changing experience.

Gorilla treks take place in the early morning and depart from the Park Headquarters.

Prior to departure you are given a briefing by park staff, assigned a gorilla family to visit and rangers to guide you.

The treks normally start in the cultivated land on the base of the volcanoes and then you are guided up into the beautiful dense misty forests. The trek normally lasts between 2 and 5 hours depending on the location of the gorilla family and once you reach the gorillas you are allowed to spend an hour with these awe-inspiring animals in their natural habitat.
